

Safety Incidents

| Type            | SubTyp    | Date       | Severity | Cause | Lost time? | Com                                                                                                                                                                                      | Job Typ             | Well Name             |
|-----------------|-----------|------------|----------|-------|------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------|-----------------------|
| Near Miss       |           | 2000-02-23 |          |       | No         | While clearing rig floor, rig hand inadvertently released line holding back tongs. Tongs swung forward and narrowly missed hitting driller in the shoulder.                              | Drilling - original | Sample 11 - Full Data |
| Unsafe Activity |           | 2000-02-26 |          |       | No         | While performing a choke drill, driller noticed that someone had left spare tools lying on catwalk. Driller had to clear catwalk of debris before proceeding to choke manifold.          | Drilling - original | Sample 11 - Full Data |
| First Aid       |           | 2000-03-01 |          |       | No         | AD was helping to rig up drilling bails when his hand became caught in the elevator latch. Latch cut his thumb and severed part of his fingernail requiring bandages from medic. No LTA. | Drilling - original | Sample 11 - Full Data |
| Unsafe Activity |           | 2000-03-06 |          |       | No         | Service hand who was testing adjustable stabilizer was using a pipe wrench that was not rig approved. He had retrieved the wrench from his toolbox and it had a cracked handle.          | Drilling - original | Sample 11 - Full Data |
| Near Miss       |           | 2000-03-17 |          |       | No         | While rigging up cement head to casing, cementing hand dropped his sledge hammer. Hammer landed approx 6 inches away from the foot of rig hand.                                          | Drilling - original | Sample 11 - Full Data |
| Illness         | Poisoning | 2000-06-02 |          | Food  | No         |                                                                                                                                                                                          | Completion          | Sample 11 - Full Data |